The Lost Alaskans

with Niesje Steinkruger and Eric Cordingley

OCTOBER 6, 2022, NOON

Between the late 1800s and 1960, Alaskan men, women, and children from villages and towns were found “really and truly Insane” by a jury of six white men and sent away. Most were sent to Morningside Hospital in Portland. Many graves have been found, but many are unmarked burials. Join us to learn about the Lost Alaskans sent to Morningside Hospital.

All lectures for our fall series will be held at Shuká Hit in the Walter Soboleff Building in Juneau and livestreamed to our YouTube channel at noon AKDT.
